

If you think we're satisfied being #6, you must be new to Nebraska.

The University of Nebraska Medical Center currently ranks No. 6 nationally in primary care education. And, our rural medical program is No. 9. While this may prove there is plenty of brainpower in the heart of America, we are by no means satisfied. It is this relentless pursuit of excellence in education, research and care that draws people — faculty, physicians, staff, students and patients alike — to us from across the country and around the world. UNMC.
